This application is before the examiner for consideration on the merits.

I. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 4 of copending Application No. 10/560,155 in view of Pfeifer (3,207,725). The applied claims in 10/560,155 is related ammonium salt(s) of alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s) but that of alkali metal salt(s) in the instant claims. However, it is known in the art to use alkali metal(s) and/or ammonium(s) in combination(s) or alternative(s). Evidence, can be seen in at least Pfeifer at col. 2:7-43. There is no suggestion of compounds with n being 2 in the general formula in the cited paragraph. There is also no suggestion of an additional compound or dyeable polyolefin composition in Pfeifer. Since the applied claims and Pfeifer are generally related to analogous salts of alkali metal(s) and ammonium(s) of alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s), it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to (1) include an amount of an alkali metal salt of an alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid for reasonable expectation of obtaining an additional benefit of an analogous anionic surfactant in the art and/or (2) use alkali metal salt(s) in place(s) of that (those) of ammonium salt(s) of alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s) for a reasonable expectation of obtaining the benefit of analogous anionic surfactant in the art and as disclosed, taught and suggested in Pfeifer.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

II. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sato et al (5,985,525) considered in view of Pfeifer (3,207,725).

Sato et al disclose, teach and suggest a developer composition and its use. The composition comprising an organic quaternary ammonium base as claimed and an analogous ammonium salt(s) of alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s) instead of alkali metal salt(s) thereof in the claims. Please see the whole disclosure of each of the applied references, especially in Sato et al at col.2:41 to 3:55 and 5:12-16.

However, it is known in the art to use alkali metal(s) and/or ammonium(s) in combination(s) or alternative(s) as salt(s) of alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s). Evidence, can be seen in at least Pfeifer at col. 2:7-43. There is no suggestion of compounds with n being 2 in the general formula in the cited paragraph. There is also no suggestion of an additional compound or dyeable polyolefin composition in Pfeifer. Since Sato et al and Pfeifer are generally related to analogous salts of alkali metal(s) and ammonium(s) of alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s), it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to (1) include an amount of an alkali metal salt of an alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid for reasonable expectation of obtaining an additional benefit of an analogous anionic surfactant in the art and/or (2) use alkali metal salt(s) in place(s) of that (those) of ammonium salt(s) in alkyl diphenyl ether sulfonic acid(s) for a reasonable expectation of obtaining the benefit of analogous anionic surfactant in the art and as disclosed, taught and suggested in Pfeifer.

III. Tanaka et al (5,543,268) and Tanaka et al (6,329,126) have about the same teachings and suggestions as those in the above applied Sato et al. They are cumulative.

Toyama et al (EP 0 272 686 and EP 0 323 836) are related to a sodium alkyl diphenyl ether disulfonate but fail to specify that the disulfonate groups are on the phenyl group other than the alkyl phenyl group as disclosed in the instant claims.

Table 1 with respect to the chemical structures in Japanese priority document has been considered. Accordingly, Takamiya (7,063,937) are cited to show the state of the art.

IV. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Hoa V. Le whose telephone number is 571-272-1332.
